Online Book Reading & Review Competition (Vachan Divas)

The Book Reading and Review Competition of Lala Lajpatrai College took place on the 19th of June 2021, by online mode through Zoom Meeting. Respected Ms. Munmy Baruah mam and Ms. Sharda mam were the guest and judges for the competition. After all the participants were done with their reviews our judges appreciated and declared their results. Sharda mam gave her expert comments. Towards the end, Baruah mam presented her view regarding the importance of mentioning the name of the book followed by name of the author, publisher, and year of publishing and how it helps while manual cataloging of books. A very meaningful point that she mentioned was regarding the choice of the books and expressed her regret about many participants choosing a bestseller over a classic for review. She highlighted that choosing a bestseller will make you intelligent but choosing a classic will make you wise, and in between the both the wise always wins.

Following Are the Objectives of the Event:

- To celebrate the National Reading Day in the honor of P.N Panicker the father of the Library and Literacy movement in Kerala.
- To enhance the reading & reviewing skills among the student community.
- To enhance public speaking skills among students on virtual platform.
- To inculcate the habit of reading among students.

Following Are the Outcomes of the Events:

- Awareness about the importance of books in our life
- Reducing the stage fear among young peers and encouraging them for active participation in such competitions
